

Do you have an Environment, Safety, Health or Security Concern?

Workers have the right to express concerns related to the environment, safety, health, and security. SLAC has established procedures for all workers, including subcontractors and users, to report without fear of reprisal: hazards; incidents; and job-related injuries and illnesses. Additionally, you are encouraged to make recommendations about appropriate methods to control these hazards.

4

You may also report concerns directly to the Department of Energy (DOE) at:
DOE Site Office
Employee Concerns Program:
800-676-3267
<https://www.energy.gov/ehss/services/doe-employee-concerns-program>
Inspector General
Hotline:
800-541-1625 or
Web form:
<https://www.energy.gov/ig/complaint-form>;
Email:
ighotline@hq.doe.gov

3

If further escalation is needed, use Stanford University's Resources at:
Stanford University
Office of The Ombuds:
<https://ombuds.stanford.edu/contact>
Stanford Compliance and Ethics Helpline:
650-721-2667 or
Anonymous submission:
https://stanforduniversity.qualtrics.com/SE/?SID=SV_6sRgkaKRnHETUDb

2

If you are uncomfortable doing that, or you need independent support, please contact the ESH Hotline at 650-926-4641 or esh-safety@slac.stanford.edu

1

Bring your concern to your supervisor or manager

If you have a concern involving a technical issue with potential significant impact to the environment, safety or health that you have tried unsuccessfully to address through SLAC processes (i.e., supervisor/manager, SLAC ESH Employee Concerns Hotline - 650-926-4641), you can consider filing a Differing Professional Opinion (DPO) through the DPO process here:
<https://www.energy.gov/ehss/doe-differing-professional-opinions>